

an excerpt from the book of life

Deborah G. Horwitz

I felt compelled to make a legacy gift to the American Jewish Committee because this one organization best represents the confluence of my identity as a woman, as a Jew, and as an American. I strongly support its mission and its prodigious accomplishments of strengthening democracy and pluralism so that we as Jews – and indeed, so that all people – can flourish.

AJC's work underlies and makes possible the very existence of all the other organizations and projects that I value – public education, justice and civil rights, Jewish continuity, the State of Israel – and I wanted to ensure its future.

You are eligible to sign the Book of Life when you make a permanent gift of any amount to one or more Jewish organizations either during or after your lifetime.
