

Board members chosen

CARMEL VALLEY — The Jewish Community Foundation of San Diego announced its four new board of directors members. Marcia Hazan, Jeffrey Ressler, Sheryl Rowling and Sherron Schuster began their three-year terms of service in July.

Hazan is chairwoman of the Jewish Women's Foundation and a board member of the Foster Family Foundation and the Galinson Family Foundation. She also serves on the Board of Jewish Family Service, on the Mental Health Committee and chairs the Nominating Committee. Professionally, Marcia worked in fashion merchandising.

Ressler serves on the Foundation's Grants Committee. An attorney by profession, Ressler serves on the boards of La Jolla Playhouse and the Agency for Jewish Education where he is the co-chairman of Limmud Day of Learning. He is also a former board member of the Lawrence Family JCC and the former president of the San Diego Center for Jewish Culture.

Rowling serves on the Foundation's Endowment Leadership Institute Committee and its Estate and Tax Planning Council. She is the managing partner of Rowling, Dold & Associates LLP.

Schuster has served on the boards of Jewish Family Service, Hillel of San Diego, Congregation Beth Israel, and United Jewish Federation. She also volunteers at the Bikkur Holim program and is a mentor in the teen mothers program. Schuster is a member of the Jewish Community Foundation's Jewish Women's Foundation.

Visit the Jewish Community Foundation at www.jcfsandiego.org or call (858) 279-2740.